In appreciation of the efforts they have exerted in order to secure for us our splendid new domicile.

Foreword

THE past five "Acorns" of Oak Hill High School have pictured school life and activity in the old, much-crowded building. May this, the first volume to be produced in our new building, be indicative of our growth in other respects.

SENIOR POEM

Here's to the Class of '29;
The girls are cute and the boys are fine.
The class is large and full of pep
When it comes to studying, what a rep!

Athletes, they are of every string,
The Class that picked the standard ring;
The first to finish in the new OAK HILL HIGH;
The team whose name shall never die.

Whose class nickname is the "SALTY DOGS"
It's they who publish the "ACORN" and the "LOGS."
When "Devils" and "Angels" were on the team,
They were forced on to Victory by the cheering squads' scream.

The Sophomores gave the Freshmen a party on Hallowe'en, and the Freshmen returned the party by giving the Sophomores a Minstrel on St. Patrick's Day. From this you can see that our social activities were not very heavy.

SOCIAL ATTRACTIONS

The Seniors gave the Juniors a circus, in the new Gymnasium, on April 25. The Juniors returned it at the annual Junior-Senior Banquet on the 18th of May. The banquet was carried out with great success. The Juniors had their class picnic on the 24th of May. They journeyed to Camp Sewell for this occasion.

SOCIAL ATTRACTIONS

Of course the Senior year being the most important of all, we were rather fortunate in social activities. We rewarded the Juniors with a wonderful party on April 19, and they returned it with the annual Junior-Senior Banquet. It was a grand affair and will be remembered by the Seniors through the rest of their happy days.

The Senior Class play was presented on May 17, in real fashion.

Alas! then came the most touching of all social affairs when the Baccalaureate Sermon was delivered to us on May 19, and then came on May 24, our Commencement exercises. Not soon will we forget those four happy and well spent years in high school.

You can see from this history that ours was an athletic class. We felt important as well as honored by having in our class Russel Mills, Captain of Football for '28; Cecil Lindsay, Captain of Boys' Basketball for '29; Otto Bowles, Captain of Track for '29; and Ruth Baumgartner, Captain of Girls' Basketball for '29.

Cecil Lindsay won laurels for himself as well as for our class, by making All-State Center in '27 and '28, and Otto Bowles made All-State Guard in '28.

Don't forget that the girls won the Girls' Class Tournament for two years in succession.

After four years in Oak Hill High School, we consider this the greatest history made there by any Senior Class.

Class Prophecy

Ten years ago with spirits high
The Seniors bade each other goodbye;
Today we met and greeted friends
How they've fared in verse I now begin.

Sue Amole, with her dainty ways,
With Martin Backus is spending her days.

Cowboy Kessler, true to his name,
Has gone out west to win him some fame.

Paul Backus, who is far from home,
In Paul Whiteman's Orchestra plays the Saxophone.

Frances Sutphin, a librarian is she,
Among her books as busy as a bee.

Albert Fodor, (we always called him Bugs),
Is now a great salesman of Oriental Rugs.

A great surprise to all, was Homer Fitz-water,
He fell in love with a girl, and chased her till he got'er.

Bernard Flint loved a girl named Flossie,
He doesn't love her now cause she's too bossy.

Pud Frantz, although a timid little girl,
Promised Cowboy she'd follow him to the end of the world.

Ruth Perkins, Oh My! so studious is she—
Has tagged to her name many a degree.

Mattie Thompson, the wicked little thing,
Searched for gold and found a wedding ring.

Virgie Coleman, the most heartless of flirts,
To the surprise of all is washing shirts.

Ruby Bishop still wears her grin
And claims red-headed boys her besetting sin.

Ruth Baumgartner in her heart still holds
Love for that would-be-sheik, Otto Bowles.

Lelia Alexander is a missionary in China,
While Nellie Clatworthy has a home in Carolina.

Juanita Mills a nurse would be,
But she married a seaman and now sails the sea.

Harl Trump now lives in the sticks;
What a shine he does cut with the wood-hicks!

Ruby Blake, a dancer so gay,
Lives in New York on the great White Way.

Polly Drummond, how she sings like a lark,
When she takes her kiddies to play in the park.

Martha Meadows married a man named Baker,
She wouldn't say yes so he just had to take her.

Thoughts of Bill Bibb and Myrl Basham bring tears to my eyes,
They long ago have left us for their home in the skies.

Famous in football is Ernie McCoy
He's thought lots of and is a mighty good boy.

Cecil Lindsay, with his shy ways and blushes,
As a coach in a College gets all the rushes.

Successful in business is Polly Long,
She's famous in art but not in song.

We all think Kat. Christian plays just grand,
But it seems she just can't catch her a man.

Olin Miller, the Pea Ridge Sheik,
Is a traveling salesman and comes here once a week.

Mabel Wooten, we all like her,
Is a dealer in fine silks and fur.

Andrew Wooten, with his eyes that smile,
Teaches school on a Philippine Isle,

Aubrey Stinnett, always a sly detective,
Gets new clues by tending the defective.

Kenny Mann, took his tenor banjo,
And went crazy playing "Old Black Joe."

Emmet Coleman, a hair cut still doth need,
If he doesn't watch out he'll go to seed.

Edith Burgess turned down Sunshine's love
And now spends her time selling silk gloves.

Mary Holt, the Vaudeville Queen,
Is advertising Danderine.

Orpha O'Dell, famous for her love affairs,
Lives on a farm but my, how she puts on airs.

Opal Thomas, still wears her big Irish smile,
And to see her the boys still walk two miles.

Mae Scott was married to a Scotchman so nice,
In the back yard to give the chickens the rice.

Otto Bowles, is a reporter of high renown,
A man with more money and brains can't be found.

Elva Canterbury still popular must be
'Cause she sets in this town styles for you and me.

Ray Gray in Scarbro has established a store,
But in football he is heard of no more.

Paul Kalavski said, "Where there's a will there's a way—"
He and Helen Craft were married that very same day.

Has married a man with a big red nose.

My heart goes out to Willie Hagy
Her husband left her with a family of three.

Hubert Bennett is on the stage;
His picture is often on the front page.

Charles McLain has gone to the North so cold,
Where he has high hopes of finding some gold.

The French clowns, Biggie Forbes and Sam Lipari,
Are now living happily in gay Paree.

J. D. Boone, still a Senior lad,
Stays home nights and comforts his dad.

Carlos Huffman took all his views
And went to Chicago to write up the news.

Morton Sadler and Pete Stark live in bachelors' bliss—
With no one to love and no one to miss.

A face that I miss is that of Dennis Hill
He went to Honolulu and I guess he's there still.

Randall Forbes, a heart-breaker is he,
Still sells ice in the land of the free.

Madora Carter—the way she will grin
And flirt with our husbands, it is a sin.

Zelma Simpson with her laugh and frown,
Many a poor man has she turned down.

"Pritch" Mills, captain of the football team,
Is now a big banker and owns a big limousine,

Kate Toombs, with her dainty little feet,
Owns a shoe store upon Main Street.

Mary Canterbury with her heart of pure gold,
Of her kind nursing many a story is told.

Warren Rogers, the "Boxing-Bill"
In a big fight finds glory still.

Frankie Jordan, still has her gum
And says she'll keep it till Kingdom Come.

Mary Lou Washington, always a wise little lass,
Has entered a convent her life for to pass.

The day grows dreary—
Of this verse you grow weary—
My mind is a blank
And the kids I must spank,
So I close for this time
With this last little rhyme:
Folks, don't forget the class of '29,
With our pep we can beat you any old time.
We have the thing that you may lack—
Love for O. H. H. S., boosters of the red and black.

—Mary Simms

Senior Class Will

We, the Senior Class of 1929, of Oak Hill High School, do hereby declare all former wills null and void and do declare this our last Will and Testament as follows:

ARTICLE I. To the Junior Class we do will and bequeath our Senior privileges and any others that they may be able to coax, wheedle or argue from the faculty.

ARTICLE II. To the Sophomore Class we do will and bequeath our dignity, our excellent grades and our splendid deportment (they need it).

ARTICLE III. To the Freshman Class we do will and bequeath all the traditions, customs and ideals of O. H. H. S., along with all the high ambitions and good intentions that we had when we entered Senior High School.

ARTICLE III. As individuals our will is as follows:

AUBREY STINNETT, our dignified President—His little spit curl to Obie Holliday,

WILLIE HAGY—Her appetite for hot dogs to Cricket Smith.

JAMES WEST—His English IV book to anyone who will undertake to find it.

MARY HOLT—Her long tresses to Madelene McLain.

KATHLEEN CHRISTIAN—Her pep to Kathleen Lewis.

ANDREW WOOTEN—His Plane Geometry book, full of very interesting theorems, to Mr. Slaven.

FRANCES SUTPHIN—Her glasses to Mrs. Kelly that she may see all tardy students.

PAUL KALAVSKI—His ability to master anything he undertakes, to Irene Smith.

PAULINE LONG—All the tricks of an artist's trade to Edith Robinette.

PAUL BACKUS—His ceaseless chatter to Clinton Buckland.

KATE TOOMBS—Her three-inch heels to Ruth Bobbitt.

ORPHA O'DELL—Her dimples, which are provoked by her own silly remarks, to Roy Smith.

RUTH BAUMGARTNER—Her chewing gum to Miss Greybeal, who seems to be making a collection.

RUBY BISHOP—Information as to how to manage a red-headed man, to Mary James.

EDITH BURGESS—Her winsome smile and merry laughter to Violet Brown.

VIRGIE COLEMAN—Her baby talk to Louise Elick.

KATHERINE FRANTZ—Her good sportsmanship to Herbert Walker.

MATTIE THOMPSON—Her slender grace to Elva Watkeys.

BERNARD FLINT—His heart smashing ability and ravishing charms to Harold West.

JUANITA MILLS—Her plentiful supply of cosmetics to Margaret Lewis.

POLLY DRUMMOND—Her musical talent to Desyl Smith.

MARY MANKIN—Her curly hair to Alice Oxendale.

MARTHA MEADOWS—Her place in the cafeteria to Mary Daily.

SUE AMOLE—Her "kinetic energy" to Lillian Mann.

RAY GRAY—His place at "bummers' corner" to Anne Sharp.

OPAL THOMAS—Her typing ability to Mabel West.

RUSSEL MILLS—His hatred of women to Jack Staton.

EMMET COLEMAN—His commanding visage to Edward Duncan.

HUBERT BENNETT—His "Chevie" and brags to Stuart Fisher; also his talent for argument.

GOLDA JORDAN—Her sunny smile and happy-go-lucky disposition to Garnet Merritt.

RUBY BLAKE—Her triumphs in Basketball battles to Arbutus Belcher.

MARY SIMMS—Her inclination to practice swimming on the floor to Mildred McDonald.

SAMUEL LIPARI—His ability to make witty remarks and ask foolish questions in French Class to Mary Modey.

MABEL WOOTEN—The book report on "Le Chevalier de Maison Rouge" to the Junior English Class.

CECIL LINDSAY—His "hot" party to the Sophomore Class.

RUTH PERKINS—A mind that absorbs General Chemistry to William Duda.

OTTO BOWLES—That lordly air to Francis Blake.

NELLIE CLATWORTHY—Her candy sales to Julia Bibb.

CARLOS HUFFMAN—His artistic ability to Fred Oxendale.

HELEN CRAFT—Her retiring disposition to Joe Penrod.

ZELMA SIMPSON—Her vocal powers to Louise Harding.

ALBERT FODOR—A large paddle with thirteen holes in it to a certain organization of the school.

Olin Miller—His delightful walk from Pea Ridge to Gertrude Stark.

Robert Kessler—His usefulness on the grid-iron to Martin Backus.

Mary Canterbury—Her loud voice to Helen Moses.

Kenneth Mann—The title "sheik" to Billy Scott.

Ernest McCoy—The ability to entertain the Study Hall to Nelson Light.

Martha Bragg—Her Fayetteville ring and pin to some student of that school, as her allegiance has been transferred to O. H. H. S.

Morton Sadler—His poetic tendency to Sandy Reid.

Harl Trump—His genius of discovery to Earl Shumate, who knows so much about Columbus.

Elva Canterbury—Her magnetic charm to Opal Bays.

Mae Scott—Her ability to dance to Mary Ross.

Homer Fitzwater—His collection of snapshots to William Thompson.

Dennis Hill—His ease of "swiping" crackers to Charles James.

Randal Forbes—His wicked ways to Robert Easton.

J. D. Boone—His list of alibis to Garnet Merritt.

Pete Stark—The art of telling jokes to William Burgess.

Oswald Morris—His excellent grades, especially on deportment, to Eloise Stokes.

Madora Carter—Her heart to a Junior boy.

Article V. We wish to warn all, that there is one possession which we are not giving away—OUR MEMORIES.

Signed by Mary Louise Washington,

Attorney for the Senior Class.

Witnesses:—Macey Clarke,
Jim Ellis, Esq.

V—is for Victory, our aim in all games.
I—is for Interference, at which "Pritch" has great fame.
L—is for line that backs up them all.
S—is for "Sandy" who carries the ball.

—G.J.

MILLS — "Pritch," by unanimous agreement is considered the greatest interference runner in the state. By reason of hard and consistent practice in his past four years he has made possible the completion of numberless plays. Mills is classed with the widely known interference runner, Briton for Red Grange; and as Briton has helped Grange become idolized by all young football players, Pritch has figured immeasurably in making stars and all-state men at Oak Hill, by giving them honor for winning games. Although the general public cannot see the interference part, yet all the true fans and admirers see it well and give him justly merited praise.

LINDSAY — That "Goliath," center who won the all-state center position is one of the cleanest, hard fighting football players that the state can boast. He shows an uncanny ability in figuring out the plays of his opponents, and is right there to stop them. For four years he has led the Red Devils in their attacks and by our record seems to have acquitted himself quite honorably.

FORBES — "Biggie" or "Flash," is the well known coach of the Junior High team. Out of a squad of boys with but little Football knowledge he formed a formidable and aggressive team that fought together with such good team work that they won most of their games. Such results can come only from good coaching. Good coaching consist of a thorough knowledge plus the ability to demonstrate, and Forbes has the ability which he showed in the games he played.

COACH REZZONICO — During the four years that "Coach" has been coaching athletics at Oak Hill, he has made from a squad of rather indifferent athletes his first year, a group of boys who like to train hard, and take coaching without grumbling. Under his tutelage the Red Devils have won more games in all branches of sports. He has permanently established track and put Oak Hill on a level with other large High Schools in the state. With such ability as he has shown, and he seems to be acquiring more, Rezzonico should become one of the state's leading coaches.

HILL—When "Preacher" won a position on the Oak Hill Varsity he showed the fans and students how hard a hill is to move, especially a live one and playing in the line for the Red Devils as tackle. He outdid all the Coach's expectations and put out a quality of football that put him in his opponents' backfield on the defense and his man on his back on the offense.

FRISK—Fred Frisk, better known as "Michael," the boil merchant, has for four years been playing a fine brand of football, considering his handicap. It is hard to realize the condition in which Fred has been fighting but such was his spirit as to hang on and he put up a good game for the Red Devils each time he played.

SHUMATE—When "Shunie" did not fall down he was one of the best all-round ends in the state. He is a good pass receiver, and on trick plays he can really skirt those ends. On the defense it would be hard to find an equal to Earl for he consistently stops plays around his end and not infrequently around the other side of center. Shumate will be with the Red Devils next year and we hope he will get the all-state position he came so close to getting this year.

SNYDER — Snyder is one of fighting Red Devils who suffered undoubtedly great pain from about five boils in every game in which he participated. Despite this serious evil continually holding him back, Snyder played some wonderful games of aggressive, heads-up football. When in action he was always in the thick of the melee and because of his fortitude and uncomplaining nature he has been chosen to captain the Red Devils in the first game of '29.

WOOTEN—"Andy", is one of those fighting Seniors who helped greatly in whipping the Varsity into shape for each conflict. He was point man for the "Imps" and gave his opponents much concern by his shifty playing and knowledge of coming plays.

GIGLIA — Because of sickness Giglia did not get to play the full season, but he was a regular war horse while he did play. From the fullback position he plowed our opponents line up like a great tank. Line playing is not his only good feature. He can place kick good distances, and throw passes like bullets. Being only a Sophomore, Charles is in a fair way to make an exceptional player before he graduates.

WEATHERFORD—"Grump", who is considered the best looking man on the squad, is, says the coach, "One of the best pass receivers in the state." His size, good nature, and readiness to take coaching will in the future make him one of the best liked and knowing football players on the Red Devils squad.

BIBB — In the hearts of the Red Devils there rests the memory of one who always put up a valiant fight. Bill's fighting spirit was the spirit of the true Red Devil who fights to the last of a game, never complaining but putting out all that he had to triumph over his opponent in a clean, hard, honorable contest. Bill made his letter in the Mt. Hope game, and less than two weeks later, he carried it to his last resting place.

FORBES—"Buddo" is the flashy little quarterback of the "Imps" who made such a sensational touchdown against our rivals, Mt. Hope. He is always ready for breaks of the game and takes advantage of them in such a way as to turn them into touchdowns. He can pass, kick, and receive, all with a degree of skill surprising for one of his size and experience, but being a Senior he will have to leave us this year.

PAUL BACKUS—Paul is the Red Devils old head on football knowledge, and was always a valuable man in a pinch. He seemed to give the team more pep and drive immediately and invariably brought them out of the lurch. Paul is a good kicker, good passer, and is no mean adept at carrying the ball off any position.

REID—"Sandy," as he is familiarly called by the fans, is that flashy little red headed boy who is one of the most elusive open field runners that Oak Hill has ever had. As a quarterback he is a field general all to himself. He quarter-backed the Red Devils through a very stiff schedule and ran the team admirably well for one who has had but one year of coaching. He will be with us next year and we hope he will lead Oak Hill through a successful season.

TERRY—"Hoochy" is the first Freshman of Oak Hill to receive honorable mention for an all-state position. He is speedy and his great punting ability has pulled the team out of many trying positions. Terry, though young in the game of football seems to play as a seasoned veteran and to those who know him he is always furnishing some new trait of an athlete who has a great future ahead of him.

KESSLER—"Cowboy," is the doggie Red Devil who slashed our opponents' teams to ribbons, on his cutting off-tackle plays. He played a heads-up game of football, and always took advantage of the breaks. He has given Oak Hill four good years of his football ability and the future looks good for such a flashy half-back.

BACKUS—The Red Devils have their share of red heads and "Marty" is one. He is no hot head. He probably has the best knowledge of football of any one on the squad, and coolly runs the team like the best of quarter-backs. Backus is one of the speediest men on the team and has natural ability in passing, kicking, and carrying the ball. Triple threats like he are received by coaches with great expectation of a winning team.

McCOY—McCoy has for four years played a steady quality of football that has also been above the average playing. Although seldom flashy "Ernie" has held his position in the line and repelled one charge right after another. And his great fighting spirit (you know he is Irish) has carried him through many hard-fought battles where a weaker and less consistent player would have given up.

BOWLES—Bowles is another veteran who has given Oak Hill four years of clean, hard fighting football ability, which in his Senior year netted him a well deserved, and honorable position on the all-state team. Otto is one of the three men in our line who Coaches all over the state said was the greatest defensive trio they had ever seen in action.

LIPARI — Little "Foxy", that snappy little tackle because of his size could never get on the first team, but nevertheless when a man was needed to take a logging lineman's position Sammy filled it to perfection. He is a consistent tackler and often gets them in the backfield. He is one of the men who for four years has given the coach no trouble because of training rules.

GRAY — For two years Ray has been a member of the fighting Red Devils, and during this, his second and last year, none of the "bench warmers" has given him a scare. Ray has been a steady, consistent player, never missing a game or a practice. Seldom did his opponents make a gain through his side of the line. He has always kept in condition, and has never been injured in a game. His is a true fighting spirit.

SHUMATE — Because of outside difficulties in his first year at Oak Hill, "Hub" did not have a good opportunity to play with the Red Devils but this year he made the line work to hold their positions, especially the ends. Next year we hope he will be at Oak Hill and holding one of the positions on the Varsity.

DUNCAN—Though Edward has not played football long enough to make the Varsity, he made the "Imps" team with ease. He constantly stopped plays in the line and was good on the offense which is proven by the number of games they won, and the line was always there with their part of the fight. Ed takes coaching without complaint.

The mouth is the gateway to the entire digestive system and it is very necessary that every possible care be given to keep the teeth and gums in a healthy condition. Pus absorption from pyorrhea or abscessed teeth may cause diseases of any or all of the vital organs.

Medical and Dental research have proven the above statement, so why endanger your health by neglect? Proper care of the teeth from infancy will eliminate these dangers. Don't wait till serious trouble arises before you visit your dentist.
